1. When is the closing date?

The estimated closing dates for the new lots being released is Winter 2024. Please note that this is an estimated timeline, and our Sales Professionals will continue to keep you updated.

2. Can my real estate agent reserve a lot for me?

Yes, your real estate agent can reserve a lot for you but please ensure you are available by phone on the release weekend in case your real estate agent or our Sales Professionals need to contact you. Your agent will need the appropriate documentation outlined in point 7 below.

3. Can a real estate agent work with more than one customer?

Real estate agents are permitted to work with more than one customer. However, a real estate agent may only reserve one lot.

4. What happens if I am unavailable on the release weekend?

Unfortunately, if you are unavailable to attend, you will not be able to purchase at this release. The reason for this policy is to ensure we can assist all interested parties in a timely manner, as many other people will be ready and waiting for their turn.

Please note, that if your real estate agent is working with our Sales Professional on your behalf, they must be able to contact you as well. If they cannot reach you and do not have the appropriate documentation (outlined in point 7 below), we will still have to move on to the next customer.

5. What if the lot or plan I wanted is not available when you get to me on the list?

We highly recommend that you have a few back up choices in case your first choice of lot is not available. Our sales team will do their best to help you find a lot and plan that works for you.

6. If my first choice is unavailable, how long do I have to make a decision?

We understand that purchasing a new home is a big decision. Our sales team will do their best to help you narrow down your options from what is available but if you cannot make a prompt decision, our Sales Professionals will have to move on to the next person in line.
